Message from the Mayor

I am immensely proud of the work Council has undertaken over the past three months to bring our new Councillors up-to-speed so we can move forward quickly and confidently in 2020.

I must also thank our CEO Rhonda Hardy and her staff for assisting with this goal. Staff genuinely care about our City and this is evident in the way they deliver services and the effort they put in to improving outcomes for our community.

Across my time as a Councillor and more recently as Mayor, I have been impressed by the ease in which the team collaborates to develop strategies and policies, scrutinising the management of Council and advocating for their community.

As I look forward to 2020 I can't help but feel enthusiastic. Our City is not only ready to take the opportunities that come our way, but more importantly, we are working together to create and drive those exciting opportunities too.

We have a number of significant capital works projects underway and more expected to start including the new Kalamunda Community Centre build predicted to break ground shortly and the near-to-end-phase of the Forrestfield Station and airport link.

Also, our community can look forward to having their say on some new projects including a fenced dog park and holding funerals in local parks.

The City will also be reviewing sentiment regarding a future aquatic facility and issue updates regarding the Stirk Park playground vision and anticipated schedule of works.

Over the next six months, we have a huge number of events planned including our FREE Summer Series Movie Festival which runs until 27 March. This year's program caters for families with young children, teenagers and adults too with films like Shazam! and Disney's 2019 live action remake of The Lion King sure to delight the crowds. The seven movies will screen on Friday nights at sunset at various locations across the City - full details are listed on the City's website.

And again, we look forward to the community coming together as we celebrate the 2020 Corymbia Multicultural Festival on 7 March.

Looking ahead, I challenge you to stay involved with your local community. The City of Kalamunda is already a great place to live, work and visit but with your ongoing support and fresh ideas our community will consistently be reinvigorated and revitalised!

New Kalamunda Community Centre

The City has awarded the contract to deliver the construction of the Kalamunda Community Centre at Jorgensen Park to Pindan Contracting following a competitive tender process. The contract covers the building, car parking improvements and associated infrastructure.

City of Kalamunda Mayor Cr Margaret Thomas JP said, "The new Kalamunda Community Centre will be a significant asset for the Community. I am extremely excited to see this project come to fruition and thank Lotterywest, the State Government and the Federal Government for their commitment to the project.

"I must also acknowledge the tireless work of the Kalamunda Community Learning Centre, who advocated for a new community centre for many years."

The request for tender was issued mid-2019 with the City receiving six tenders by the closing date, 21 October 2019.

An evaluation panel then assessed each tender in a staged process moving from tender compliance to qualitative criteria to price.

The panel's recommendation was endorsed by Council at its 17 December 2019 Ordinary Council Meeting ensuring a timely start for the build.

"Construction is set to commence early next year replacing the Jorgensen Park Pavilion, which has reached its end of life, and will be demolished as a part of the project." Mayor Thomas said.

Council adopted the centre's design in June 2019, following extensive consultation with the Kalamunda

Community Learning Centre and Community Reference Group. Key features of the new building include seven activity rooms, two halls, office space, a kitchen, bathrooms, outdoor play areas and a viewing deck. Timber and stone design textures will give the building a natural feel, paying tribute to its surrounds.

The project is funded from the Federal Government ($1 Million), Lotterywest ($2.5 Million) and the State Government of Western Australia ($3 Million) with a $150,000 contribution from the Kalamunda Community Learning Centre.

Reroofing goes ahead at Kalamunda Library

Reroofing of the Kalamunda Library will start in early February 2020 with a staged roll out to minimise any inconveniences to library users.

The $130,000 maintenance project will start on 3 February and is expected to be complete within four-weeks.

The new roofing will future proof the building for a significant solar panel upgrade (as recommended for inclusion in upcoming capital works programs) to mitigate the electricity consumption of the Library.

The City warns residents and library users to expect some noise during the month-long works program.

"The library provides significant services to our community, so being able to provide continuity, combined with the fact that the staff and equipment don't need to be moved out of the buildings while works take place is definitely a plus for us," City of Kalamunda CEO Rhonda Hardy said.

"The City apologises for any inconvenience to our library users during this time as there will be restricted access to some areas of the library however we will update communications as works progress."

During the project works, regular updates will be published on the City's website Kalamunda.wa.gov.au, Facebook page and on public notice boards detailing specific areas affected and duration of work.

The City's other three libraries will be open as usual.

Good news for Schmitt Road

EXPLORE THE WORLD IN A DAY

First Reconciliation Action Plan launched

The City took an historic step launching its Innovate Reconciliation Action Plan (2019-2021) to the community at Hartfield Park, Forrestfield.

More than 80 people attended the significant event including Aboriginal Elders Neville Collard, Nick Abrahams and Sharron Yarran, Forrestfield MLA Stephen Price, City of Kalamunda Mayor Cr Margaret Thomas, Councillors and staff. Elders led the event, with speeches and stories.

The City's first Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP) was developed over the past 18 months and outlines 19 actions and 88 deliverables for the next two years.

Mayor Margaret Thomas JP said, "One of the rewarding aspects of creating a RAP is that it is not a solo effort; it's a team effort. The process was a fantastic collaboration, summed up beautifully by local elder and Wattle Grove Resident Sharron Yarran - who spoke to us about the importance of doing it together. I thank all of the Elders and community members who have assisted us.

"The Innovate RAP will guide us in our understanding of where we need to progress in our reconciliation journey; what we are doing well to build on as foundations; and continue to develop relationships and seek guidance from our Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander community.

"This plan is our commitment to support our community and staff to build respect, lasting relationships, and generate opportunities to create business synergies.

"It will also support us when developing events and community activities that will acknowledge and recognise respect and pride for Aboriginal cultures and histories."

A copy of the RAP is available online at kalamunda.wa.gov.au

Heidelberg named potential aged care site

The recent State Government announcement confirming the preferred location for a new aged care facility within the City of Kalamunda has been welcomed.

The site, located on the borders of Lesmurdie, Walliston and Carmel, was formerly an orchard and is currently owned by the State Government.

In early 2019, the City asked the local community for its vision for the vacant site on the corner of Pomeroy and Canning Road, with an overwhelming majority proposing the site is used to deliver aged care services.

Specifically, feedback shows strong support for the site to be developed to better meet the needs of the community, including development of an aged care facility, an integrated area for all ages and community members; and the retention of nature, trees and vegetation.

The City's Kalamunda Aged Care Advisory Committee has been briefed on the community's vision, which aligns with relevant technical studies.

City of Kalamunda Mayor, Cr Margaret Thomas JP said the City has been working closely with State Government for more than a decade to advocate for the provision of aged care services and facilities to address the critical shortage in the region.

"We've led these discussions for a number of years and I thank the many committee members and City staff who have been involved in advocating and keeping aged care at the forefront of the agenda for so long," Mayor Thomas said.

The City will continue to ensure the views of the community are represented in any future development discussions regarding the site including the potential for an intergenerational community space to be created for the benefit of all.

Microbats keep mozzies away Road rehab on the way

Did you know there are more than 70 species of microbats in Australia and 37 live right here in WA?

Unfortunately most are vulnerable or endangered, particularly in city areas where urbanisation robs them of their hollow tree homes.

Recently the City held an information workshop at Walliston Primary School to show students how they can support microbats and assist with increasing their population.

The workshop focussed on the importance of providing roosting boxes or alternative homes where the bats can breed in the tops of trees.

The City hopes by reducing local mosquito population numbers it will limit the spread of blood borne diseases ultimately improving the local community's public health.

In addition, the City has started a pilot study to determine the effectiveness of increased microbat housing on reducing mosquito numbers in problem areas.

The City is keen to present at local schools to share with students more about microbats and mosquitos.

For more information or to make a booking call contact the City's Community Health Promotion Officer 9257 9839.

The City has announced a number of road maintenance projects to get underway in 2020.

Sites earmarked for repair in the area are:

- Welshpool Road East in six sections, two on the hill, three between Lesmurdie Road and Pomeroy Road, and one at the intersection with Canning Road
- Lesmurdie Road just uphill from the intersection with Welshpool Road East

The sites show similar types of faults, being areas of significant cracking, crocodile cracking, and deformation of the surface such as rutting. The repairs include foam bitumen stabilisation and new asphalt surfacing.

Sports Stars shine bright

The City presented a whopping $14,850 in grants to 70 Kalamunda Sports Stars at a local reception in December 2019.

The annual awards event recognises the achievement of local athletes selected to represent WA or Australia in their chosen sport. Athletes under 18 are eligible to receive up to $250 while athletes aged 18 to 25 can apply up to $150.

City of Kalamunda Mayor, Cr Margaret Thomas JP, congratulated the recent recipients for their exceptional commitment and skill.

"I am constantly impressed with the efforts and achievements of our local sporting stars and I look forward to hearing of their ongoing success," Mayor Thomas said.

The awards night recognised local athletes from eight suburbs and 25 sports including softball, gymnastics, soccer, swimming, athletics, tennis, taekwondo, water skiing, cross country and mountain biking.

"The City is proud to have so many local sporting clubs committed to developing the talents of our future stars," Mayor Thomas said.

"We recognise the importance of developing and supporting talented junior athletes in our area and will continue to encourage young athletes to prioritise their health and fitness."

For more information on how the City supports local sporting clubs and athletes, please email sport@kalamunda.wa.gov.au or call 9257 9839.

Total fire ban status shuts WTS

Residents are reminded when a total fire ban is declared the Walliston Transfer Station is closed.

Total fire bans are set by the Department of Fire and Emergency Services and are issued on days when weather conditions would make fires difficult to control or when there are a number of fires burning across the State, stretching firefighting resources.

Activities not permitted during a total fire ban include any hot works such as grinding, welding, cutting or heating in the open air.

Also, on days when a total fire ban is declared, the City's bushfire control officer can impose a harvest and vehicle movement ban.

To stay up to date with total fire ban alerts and warnings visit emergency.wa.gov.au or phone the DFES total fire ban hotline on 133 337. To check if the City has declared a harvest and vehicle movement ban visit kalamunda.wa.gov.au, listen to ABC radio broadcasts or check the variable messaging boards located around the City.

The City's Plants for Residents program has given away over 220,000 plants to residents over 22 years!

The program is all about providing habitat for local wildlife in residential backyards and improving the City's urban canopy.

In 2020 each residential property can receive 10 free plants from a selection of local, waterwise native species.

All you have to do is come along! Residents should bring their ID and/or a utility bill (as proof they live in the City) plus a bag or box to take their plants back home.

This year the City will be giving away around 15,000 plants, but it's first-in first-choice, so get there early to get your plants.

Information on the plant selection can be found online at kalamunda.wa.gov.au.
